About the Client

Our Client is a leading producer of magazines, newspapers and comics. The estimated number of magazines, newspapers and comics published by them is close to 200 million each year. The client also publishes digital versions of the magazines and newspapers to cater to the global reader base.

Client Requirements

The client was looking for a suitable premedia services provider for adaption of a series of black and white comic books. The partner was expected to adapt the comic book to suit contemporary size and design.

Tegra Services

Tegra was nominated to execute the project. A team of experienced professionals were assigned the task to achieve the said objectives. The following are the various services offered by us:

- Text Scanning – The entire text of the comic book was scanned and converted to editable form and for further editing and formatting via OCR.
- Image Scanning – The older editions of the comic book were rescanned using a high resolution flat-bed scanner. The scans were retouched, sharpened and resized.
- Layout and Design – The entire comic book was redesigned to give a contemporary look and feel and at the same time resized to adapt to the new size of the book stands found world over.
- Packaging Design – Tegra designed a suitable package to grab the reader's attention.
- Print Ready Files – All the files were converted to print ready PDF format.
- Cover Design – The outer cover jacket was also digitised and redesigned by Tegra.
